TYPES OF MEMBERSHIPS (from the bylaws)

Producer Members This group shall include domestic growers who are involved in farming and who are currently growing sesame and/or who have grown sesame in the past. Producer members are entitled to vote, sit on Association committees, and in accordance with Article VII, Section 1(a), be represented on the Association Board of Directors.

Associate Producer Members This group shall include domestic growers who are actively involved in farming and who are not currently growing sesame nor have grown sesame in the past but who are considering growing sesame in the future. Associate Producer members are not entitled to vote, sit on Association committees or be represented on the Association Board of Directors. As soon as an Associate Producer Member begins growing sesame the membership changes to that of a Producer Member.

Industry Members This group shall include any domestic business, organization or agency, or individuals of U.S. residence, which have an interest in sesame and the betterment of the sesame industry. Industry members are entitled to vote, sit on Association committees, and in accordance with Article VII, Section 1(b), be represented on the Association Board of Directors.

Associate Members This group shall include any domestic or foreign business, organization or agency, or individual, which has an interest in sesame and who would like to maintain communication with the Association. Associate members are not entitled to vote, sit on Association committees, or be represented on the Association Board of Directors.

Contributory Members Domestic or foreign businesses, organization, agencies or individuals may contribute financially to the Association. Contributions may be designated for promotion, government relations or market development. Contributory members are not entitled to vote, sit on Association committees, or be represented on the Association Board of Directors.

Honorary Members Persons who have rendered or may render distinctive service to the Association or the development of the sesame industry may, on recommendation of the Board of Directors, be elected Honorary Members for life and shall not be required to pay dues, but shall be entitled to all membership privileges in the Association except voting rights.
